AMUSEMENTS.

Memphis Theater.

Last night the concert troupe of Herr August Wilhelm, violinist, gave an initial performance at the Theater. He was supported by Mme. Teresa Carreno, plandst. Miss James, the wall-known vocalist, who is a member of the troupe, did not appear, she having taken sick at New Orleans and being unable to travel. The pregramme of exercises last night was as follows:

The excores during the evening's entertainment were numerous, and Herr Wilhelm; and Mme. Carreno kindly responded to them. The latter, in response to an encore, gave the "Last Rose of Summer" in a style most artistic, which captured the addience. The absence of Miss James was felt by the audience, who desired to enjoy vocal as well as natrumental music. The violin performance of Herr Wilhelm; was everything to be commended. Herr Withelm) was everything to be commended. He has obtained absolute mastery over the technical part of his art. He is simply great, and is a worthy rival of Vieutemps and Wieneauski and other masters of the violin. Withelm is a large, stout, clean-shaved German, of large brow and pleasing countenance. He earried his violin under his arm as he came on the stage, and at once went to work and played as one inspired. Mme, Carreno created a furore by her performance on the plano, of which instrument she has complete misstery. To-day, by special request, a matinee will be given at the usual hour. Those who were unable to attend last night should by all means do so to-day.

Mins Genevieve Rogers.

This well-known lady will commence an engagement at the Memphis Theater on next Montay night, and in Mand Muller. The Washington Chronicle, of recent date, says of the lady and play: The beautiful drama of Mand Muller is drawing good houses at the National, and Miss Genevieve Beggers is making a lasting impression on Washington audiences. Miss Rogers has all the advantages of youth and beauty, and the power of portraying atthiully the deepest emotions. She so completely phis the sympathies of her audience that at the end of the emational acts the ladies cry outright. Her support is excellent."

Marriage is a matter of more worth Than to be dealt with by attorneyship Than to be dealt with by attorneyship."

The poets and prose writers of all ages have sounded the praises of marriage, and have pletured it forth in a charming dress. The divorce courts of the land develop the true inwardness of marriage and show too often the troubles and blokerings that take place within the secret and celestral circle. The large majority of the petitions, two-thirds, perhaps, for divorce are filed by women, who charge their husbands with drunkenness, failure to support, desertion, incontinencs, cruel and inhuman treatment, etc. They have to file their bill of divorce in forma panyeris, they having no money or other means to conduct the suits. In such cases the sheriff and clerks of court get no fees and have to do all the work for nothing. The average costs in each case is from five to ten dollars. The troubles between married people, so far as our commissioner could get at such by reading scores of divorce petitions, arose from a want of affection and a lack of forbearance on the part of both man and woman—

I believe in mutual aid, let the citizens perform their part fat a smail cost individually), the board of health theirs, that is, a removal of the fifth, and in one fifth of what it cost the old city government. Citizens! work like bees. The amount of work to each individual is small, but in the aggregate is a great deal more than our board of commissioners can manage unless at ed by each citizen. I make this suggestion from the fact that four-fifths of our citizens empty cinders, trash and rubbish in the streets and alleys, awaiting the city authorities to do the same, and then curse the officials because the removal is not made, and our streets and alleys present a sight rather unpleasant for strangers to gazz up.m. Result—unfavorable reports sent to neighboring cities.
